In the event of a tie for first place, a 'sudden death' play-off will take place on the 18th until there is a result or as otherwise determined by the tournament committee.

2019 event

In 2019, the WA PGA Championship will again have an added element of "Road to the Outback Challenge" amateurs playing across the weekend with those players that make the cut. In the event of there being less amateurs than Championship competitors, teams will be formed using the highest ranked players that have made the cut. The teams' event will be calculated on the basis of the best Stableford points score achieved on each hole by either the professional or his amateur partner to then provide a total team score for the round. The amateurs you will be playing with have pre-qualified across 4 venues in WA in an event called 'Road to the Outback'.

The Road to the Outback Challenge carries additional non-official prize money of $5,000 with the winning team pro taking $2,500-, second place team pro $1,500 and third place pro team $1000.
